KEY NEWS OF QATAR

- Qatar, Oman explore broader co-operation

The leaders reaffirmed their commitment to deepening partnership and coordination in ways that serve the shared interests and aspirations of both peoples, while also exchanging views on regional and international issues of mutual interest. Sultan Haitham thanked Qatar for its warm hospitality and stressed Oman's readiness to broaden cooperation and open new avenues for collaboration. The visit, which included a formal welcome and farewell at Hamad International Airport and a luncheon hosted by the Amir, was attended by senior ministers and officials from both countries, including Qatar's energy, commerce, transport and foreign affairs officials and Oman's ministers overseeing energy, interior and royal affairs, underscoring the broad and strategic scope of Qatar-Oman ties.

Qatar welcomed the move as a confidence-building step and reaffirmed its commitment to dialogue and a peaceful, sustainable resolution. As part of the wider peace process, Qatar also participated in a July 26 coordination meeting in Gaborone, focusing on implementing the ceasefire monitoring mechanism, detainee exchanges and completing outstanding Doha framework protocols. Working with the US, Togo and regional partners, Doha continues to support an African-led peace process, underscoring its broader role as a regional and international mediator.

- Qatari Diar launches Phase 1 of USD 29.7 bn Alam Al Roum development in Egypt

  Qatari Diar has launched the first phase of its USD 29.7 bn Alam Al Roum development on Egypt's North Coast, its largest investment in Egypt, with handover targeted from 2030. The 20.58 mn sq m mixed-use coastal city will combine residential, hospitality, commercial, cultural, entertainment, healthcare and leisure facilities, supported by extensive beaches, lagoons, marinas, hotels and a championship golf course. The development is designed to boost Egypt's tourism sector, attract further investment, strengthen local construction activity and establish the North Coast as a major regional destination for tourism, yachting, sports and international events.

KEY NEWS OF SAUDI ARABIA

- Saudi Arabia's Business Confidence Index holds steady at 56.5 in July: GASTAT

  Saudi Arabia's Business Confidence Index (BCI) remained firmly in optimistic territory at 56.5 in July, easing only marginally from 56.6 in June and extending its recovery from 52.1 in March, supported by continued confidence in economic stability and growth across the non-oil economy. Sector-wise, confidence remained positive in construction at 57.7, services at 55.3, and industry at 54.7, although all three sectors recorded slight declines due mainly to concerns over current and expected input costs. The resilience in business sentiment was reinforced by Saudi Arabia's July PMI of 53.1, reflecting sustained output and new-order growth despite regional disruptions linked to the US-Iran conflict. Construction activity also continued to expand for a third consecutive month, with new orders reaching a five-month high, although the sector's PMI eased to 55.2 from 56.3. Overall, the data point to continued resilience in Saudi Arabia's private sector and non-oil economy, with non-oil activities growing 0.6% year-on-year in Q2 2026, even as overall real GDP contracted 4.8%, highlighting the ongoing strength of the Kingdom's economic diversification efforts.

- Saudia tops global airline punctuality rankings for third consecutive time

  Saudi Arabia's national carrier, Saudia, ranked first globally for on-time arrivals in July, recording an 87.24% punctuality rate across 16,406 flights, according to Cirium, marking its third global punctuality leadership in 2026. The achievement is particularly notable during the peak summer travel season and follows strong operational performance during other high-demand periods such as Hajj. Saudia attributed its performance to coordinated operations across the group, collaboration with aviation and government partners, skilled national talent, and the use of advanced digital and AI-powered systems to improve decision-making and operational efficiency. The airline also ranked strongly on passenger service, recording the lowest complaint rate among Saudi carriers at 39 complaints per 100,000 passengers in June, while resolving 89% of complaints on time, according to the General Authority of Civil Aviation. The results reinforce Saudia's position as a highly reliable global airline and support Saudi Arabia's national aviation strategy focused on operational excellence, efficient travel and sustainable growth.

KEY NEWS OF UAE

- UAE and Russian Presidents discuss bilateral cooperation and regional and international developments in phone call

  UAE President Sheikh Mohamed bin Zayed Al Nahyan and Russian President Vladimir Putin discussed strengthening bilateral relations during a phone call, reaffirming their commitment to expanding cooperation under the two countries' strategic partnership and advancing their mutual interests. The leaders also exchanged views on key regional and international developments, with particular focus on the situation in the Middle East and ongoing diplomatic efforts to promote security, stability and peace across the region. The discussion highlights the UAE and Russia's continued coordination on regional issues and their broader efforts to deepen strategic ties while supporting peaceful solutions to ongoing conflicts.

OTHER REGIONAL AND GLOBAL NEWS

- Oil rises on concerns over Strait of Hormuz reopening plans

  Oil prices extended gains on Friday as concerns over the Strait of Hormuz intensified after Iran considered banning vessels deemed hostile and imposing fines of up to 20% of cargo value, while Iran and Oman discussed transit fees. Brent rose 1.2% to USD 83.48 a barrel and WTI gained 1.1% to USD 78.84, with traders remaining skeptical that any new agreement would quickly restore normal tanker movements. Ongoing uncertainty over the strait, which handles around a fifth of global oil and LNG flows, along with continued Houthi attacks in Yemen, supported prices despite US President Donald Trump saying he expected the war to end soon.

- Gold hits seven-week high as weak US jobs data dents rate hike bets

  Gold surged 2.4% to USD 4,341.69 an ounce on Friday, its highest level in seven weeks, and was on track for its strongest weekly gain in seven months after US nonfarm payrolls unexpectedly fell by 23,000 in July, sharply reducing expectations of a September Fed rate hike. Markets now see a 43.9% chance of tightening, down from 57% before the jobs report, weakening the dollar and boosting demand for non-yielding bullion. Geopolitical uncertainty also supported gold, while UBS forecast prices could reach USD 5,000 by H1 2027. Silver, platinum and palladium also gained and were headed for weekly advances.

- Japan and US ready to intervene in FX markets again, says Katayama

  Japan and the US reaffirmed their readiness to intervene in foreign exchange markets if necessary, with Japan's Finance Minister Satsuki Katayama attributing recent yen weakness partly to speculative yen carry trades rather than underlying demand. The comments came as the US dollar weakened against the yen and other major currencies following unexpectedly weak US jobs data, with the economy losing 23,000 jobs in July versus expectations for an 80,000 increase. Although the unemployment rate edged down to 4.1%, labour-force participation fell to a near 5½-year low of 61.4%, raising concerns about US economic momentum and potentially increasing pressure on the Federal Reserve to ease monetary policy. The dollar's decline against the yen also reversed gains made after the recent coordinated Japan-US intervention, highlighting continued sensitivity in currency markets to intervention risks and shifting Fed expectations.
