KEY NEWS OF QATAR

▶ Qatar selected as co-chair of Arab Competition Network's mergers and acquisitions working group

Qatar, represented by the Competition Protection Department at the Ministry of Commerce and Industry, has secured the co-chair position of the Mergers and Acquisitions Working Group of the Arab Competition Network during the network's fifth Executive Council meeting, held virtually. The appointment will enable Qatar to contribute to strengthening cooperation and coordination among Arab competition authorities, promoting the exchange of expertise and best practices, and developing competition protection frameworks across the region. In its new role, the department will help develop the working group's action plan, organize specialized meetings and workshops, facilitate knowledge sharing among member states, and support training programmes covering mergers, acquisitions and economic concentrations.

▶ Qatari delegation, Provence-Alpes-Cote d'Azur region eye business opportunities

A Qatari business delegation led by Qatar Chamber chairman Sheikh Khalifa bin Jassim al-Thani visited southern France to explore joint ventures and strengthen economic and investment cooperation with French businesses, in coordination with the Qatar-French Economic Association (CADRAN). Meetings with regional economic development agencies, chambers of commerce and business leaders in Cannes, Nice and other cities focused on expanding trade, investment and private-sector partnerships. Both sides highlighted strong existing ties in luxury hospitality and real estate, while identifying opportunities in aviation, tourism, technology, finance, energy transition, infrastructure, the digital economy and artificial intelligence. The delegation also emphasised reciprocal business visits to Qatar to advance potential projects and establish long-term partnerships.

▶ QCB governor holds talks with global banking leaders

Qatar Central Bank Governor and Qatar Investment Authority Chairman Sheikh Bandar bin Mohammed bin Saoud al-Thani held meetings with senior financial and banking officials on the sidelines of the 2026 IMF and World Bank Group annual meetings in Bangkok, Thailand, from October 12 to 18. He met Monetary Authority of Singapore Managing Director Chia Der Jun to discuss bilateral cooperation and ways to strengthen financial and banking ties between Qatar and Singapore. Separate meetings were also held with Standard Chartered Group Chair Maria Ramos, Euroclear Group Chairman Francesco Vanni d'Archirafi and Lloyds Bank Corporate Markets Chief Executive Carla Antunes da Silva. The discussions focused on developments in global financial and investment markets and other issues of mutual interest, providing an opportunity to strengthen international financial relationships and explore areas of cooperation amid evolving global economic conditions.

KEY NEWS OF SAUDI ARABIA

▶ Saudi cybersecurity market grows 10.7% to USD 4.35 bn as digital economy expands

Saudi Arabia's cybersecurity market grew 10.7% year-on-year to SAR 16.3 bn (USD 4.35 bn) in 2025, driven by rising demand for digital protection amid the Kingdom's Vision 2030 transformation. The private sector accounted for 69% of market spending, while government entities contributed 31%. The sector contributed approximately SAR 20 bn to GDP in 2025, equivalent to 0.42% of the Kingdom's total GDP, while the cybersecurity workforce exceeded 22,000 professionals, with women representing 33%. Products accounted for 51% of market activity and services 49%, with growing demand for network security, data protection, cloud security and AI-driven threat detection. The National Cybersecurity Authority is supporting industry development through initiatives to localize technologies, develop domestic talent and encourage innovation, positioning cybersecurity as an increasingly important contributor to economic growth and digital resilience.

▶ Saudi inflation remains stable at 1.9% in September despite global shipping risks

Saudi Arabia's annual inflation rate remained unchanged at 1.9% in September 2026, while consumer prices were flat month-on-month, according to the General Authority for Statistics (GASTAT). Inflation was primarily driven by a 3.6% increase in housing, water, electricity, gas and fuel costs, reflecting higher housing rents, followed by transportation prices, which rose 2.3%, and food and beverages, which increased 1.4%. Prices of personal care and other goods and services also rose, while furniture, household appliances, clothing and footwear recorded declines. Meanwhile, the Wholesale Price Index increased 4.2% year-on-year, supported by a 7.1% rise in other transportable goods, including higher basic chemical and refined petroleum product prices, alongside increases in agricultural and fishing products. However, wholesale prices declined 0.2% month-on-month, mainly due to lower prices for refined petroleum products, fuels and other transportable goods. Although consumer inflation remained stable, ongoing tensions along key maritime routes could raise shipping costs and disrupt supply chains, potentially creating additional upward pressure on prices.

KEY NEWS OF UAE

▶ China, Dubai deepen trade, investment cooperation through Zhejiang partnership

China and Dubai are seeking to deepen economic and trade cooperation beyond traditional goods trading, with a greater focus on investment, industrial collaboration and innovation, according to Chen Jianzhong, chairman of CCPIT Zhejiang. Speaking at the Dubai Business Forum – China in Shenzhen, he highlighted opportunities for Zhejiang companies in digital technology, advanced manufacturing, artificial intelligence, new energy vehicles and cross-border logistics, citing Dubai's strategic location, infrastructure and business-friendly policies as key advantages. He said Dubai serves as a gateway to markets across the Middle East, Asia, Africa and Europe, while cooperation between CCPIT Zhejiang and Dubai Chambers will facilitate business matchmaking, market entry and two-way investment.

OTHER REGIONAL AND GLOBAL NEWS

▶ Oil eases but heads for small weekly gain as investors focus on Middle East supply

Oil prices fell on Friday, with Brent crude down 0.74% to USD 105.14 a barrel and WTI declining 1% to USD 96.98, but both remained on track for weekly gains of 0.4% and 5.6%, respectively. Prices were supported by persistent Middle East supply disruptions, escalating attacks around the Strait of Hormuz and a larger-than-expected draw in US crude inventories. However, sentiment was tempered by the International Energy Agency's planned release of additional diesel supplies and reports that the US was considering easing sanctions on certain shadow-fleet tankers. European diesel refining margins also fell nearly 2% to USD 78.67 a barrel following the IEA's announcement, although continued regional tensions and uncertainty over the recovery of Gulf oil flows sustained supply concerns.

▶ Gold gains on softer dollar, but heads for weekly fall

Gold prices edged up 0.2% to USD 4,177.82 per ounce on Friday as a weaker US dollar supported demand, although bullion remained on track for a 0.5% weekly decline amid expectations of further Federal Reserve rate hikes. Stronger-than-expected US consumer and producer inflation data reinforced concerns about persistent price pressures, with markets pricing in an 89% probability of a rate hike in December, limiting gold's upside as higher interest rates reduce the appeal of non-yielding assets. Meanwhile, several major Indian mutual funds suspended bulk subscriptions to gold ETFs ahead of the festive season. Silver rose 0.7% to USD 57.81, platinum gained 1.1% to USD 1,642.75 and palladium advanced 1.5%, although all three metals were heading for weekly losses.

▶ IMF chief urges cooperation on AI and war risks, as US hails economic momentum

IMF Managing Director Kristalina Georgieva called for urgent international cooperation to address global economic risks, including the prolonged Middle East conflict, high inflation, rising interest rates, mounting debt and rapid advances in artificial intelligence (AI). The IMF projected global growth of 3.1% in 2026, warning that the conflict and disruptions to energy supplies could undermine growth and financial stability, while a slowdown in AI investment could add further pressure. In contrast, US Treasury Under Secretary Erin Browne highlighted strong US economic performance, record stock market highs and the potential for AI, energy expansion and productivity-enhancing reforms to support global growth. Meanwhile, concerns over elevated borrowing costs and the sustainability of AI-related investments contributed to sharp declines in Asian markets, while developing countries called for greater support to address inequality and prevent poorer economies from falling further behind.

FX Commentary

The dollar index fell to around 102.07, putting it on track for a weekly decline of approximately 0.55% across reports. The euro strengthened to around USD 1.12, supported by the dollar's weakness, while the yen traded around 157.88 per dollar, also heading for a modest weekly gain. The Swiss franc emerged as a key beneficiary of safe-haven demand, while sterling held near USD 1.33, supported by stronger-than-expected UK economic growth. In contrast, the Australian dollar remained under pressure following weaker employment data, with expectations of further Reserve Bank of Australia rate hikes easing.
